Co-Creating our Humanity Anthroposophical Society in Canada:

Welcome to an international community aiming to actively listen and respond to the questions of our time by fostering our inner life and spiritual development.

If you want to change the world, start by changing yourself.
Rudolf Steiner

Nurturing the soul finds its greatest possibility for development in relationship with others. Relationships can be fostered through a wide range and variety of anthroposophical activities: branch and group meetings, research/study groups, Waldorf schools, conferences, artistic workshops.

People must come closer to one another than they used to do, each becoming an awakener of everyone he or she meets.

Rudolf Steiner

Becoming a member in Canada includes membership to the General Anthroposophical Society founded by Rudolf Steiner (1861–1925) to support ongoing spiritual research as a complement to the scientific worldview. This movement has its headquarters at the Goetheanum in Dornach, Switzerland.

We encourage you to make contact with members or others in your area interested in anthroposophy. There is a list of Branches and Groups in Canada on the website. And please do not hesitate to contact us if you have questions or need assistance in any way.

Members receive regular newsletters, in electronic or print format from the Canadian Society, as well as Anthroposophy Worldwide from the Goetheanum. You are invited to read the Principles of the General Anthroposophical Society in the accompanying booklet, or by following this link.

Contributions

Currently annual contributions are $275.00. These contributions sustain the life of anthroposophy locally, within Canada, at the Goetheanum, and worldwide, and help us meet our projected budget. Please contact the administrator if you are in circumstances which make a contribution difficult.

Your first payment should accompany the Membership Application. If you join after July 1st, the amount of your contribution is $137.50. Please make cheques payable to the Anthroposophical Society in Canada and mail, together with your application form to the address below.
